

If you love me, leave me at home!

Every year many dogs die because they left unattended in hot vehicles. While many people think that leaving a window open will keep their dog safe, studies show that leaving a window open makes no difference to the temperature of a vehicle. Temperatures rise quickly and, in a matter of minutes, your best friend could die.

Know the signs of heatstroke

- heavy panting
- lethargy
- salivation
- lack of coordination
- rapid pulse
- vomiting
- red gums and tongue
- diarrhea

If you see a dog in a hot car

- Record information about the vehicle
- Alert the management of the business
- Call the police
- Stay with the dog until help comes