

Pet Overpopulation

TOO MANY DOGS & CATS

Do you know what spay and neuter means? These are simple operations that keep pets from having babies. Female cats and dogs are spayed and male cats and dogs are neutered.

SPAY & NEUTER CATS & DOGS

Why is it important to spay and neuter cats and dogs?

We have a problem called pet overpopulation. That means there are too many animals without homes. Sadly, many of these abandoned animals end up at our shelter looking for new families or die all alone and scared.

By spaying and neutering our pets, we are controlling the pet population problem in the Community.

Believe it or not, spayed and neutered cats and dogs actually live longer, healthier lives and are less likely to get cancer. They are also calmer and better behaved. What can YOU do to help control the pet overpopulation problem in YOUR Community?
DON'T LITTER! Have your pet spayed or neutered.

PUPPIES ARE NOT TOYS TO PLAY WITH. THEY HAVE FEELING JUST LIKE YOU SO BE KIND!
